with picture try

vzbzcbz

```
• •
                                                              main.ts - post-app
                                                                                           □ …
               index.html
                               style.css
                                                                                                     EXPLORER
src > TS main.ts > ♥ form.addEventListener('submit') callback
                                                                                                   ∨ POST-APP
      form.addEventListener('submit', async (event) => { > node_modules
         const response = await axios.post('http://localhost:3000/api/auth/login', { public public
           username,
                                                                                                     -password,
                                                                                                         style.css
          const token = response.data.data.token;
                                                                                                         typescript.svg
                                                                                                        TS vite-env.d.ts
          localStorage.setItem('token', token);
                                                                                                        .gitignore
                                                                                                        index.html
 30 navigate('/posts', '<h1>Posts</h1>', { token
                                                                                                          package-lock.json
                                                                                                          package.json
                                                                                                       15 tsconfig.json
          console.log(e);
      fetchPostEl.addEventListener('click', async () => {
        const token = localStorage.getItem('token'); > OUTLINE
          const-response = await-axios.get('http://localhost:3000/api/posts', { headers: {
                                                                                                   > TIMELINE
                                                                                                    eet.google.com is sharing your screen.
```